Parish Financial Update

Dear Parishioners,
Vestry has asked that we provide a financial update to parishioners as we near the end of 2026. Thanks to all for your vital and continuing contributions to the work of St. Peter's Cathedral.
As of November 1, envelope offerings for general expenses were $89,654, up from $79,321 last year. This is against a budget amount of $126,940 for that date. Friends of St. Peter's offerings dropped rather dramatically from $40,426 last year to $10,332. These are two of the more important revenue lines. Together, they show a decline from $119,747 to $96,986, a drop of over $22,000 year to date.
Hall rental income is down from $16,030 to $9,365 as provincial government departments cut back on external meetings.
On the expenditure side, our heating costs increased by about $3000 as of Nov 1, about an 8% increase. November and December will be higher as our heating costs at the Rectory (furnace oil) and the district heating system that heats the Cathedral, Hall, and Church House will both reflect the very high current price of fuel oil.
The building fund has received donations of $64,020, with $40,000 of that a very generous bequest from the estate of Carole Ann Michael. Capital expenditures to date were $21,589, which included costs of the new Cathedral front door, extensive interior repairs and painting of the Rectory in preparation for our new Rector Fr Colin and his wife Shannon, and a new sound board for the Cathedral and improved livestreaming of services.
Overall, good control of costs, but a serious decline in revenue. We currently stand at a net deficit of about $75,000. Last year we made up a great deal of ground in the last two months and balanced our books. We ask parishioners to do what they can again this year to close the gap and keep the Cathedral on a solid financial footing. That would be a wonderful way to welcome our new Rector and open a new chapter in the life of St. Peter's.
Thank you all,

Rory Francis
