ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Founded in 1981, the Atlantic Theological Conference brings together people from all over the world, and from all walks of life, to hear papers and participate in discussion on issues of enduring theological importance. The conference proceedings are published each year by St. Peter Publications.

This year's Conference will be held at the University of King's College, Halifax. Conference sessions will take place in the KTS Lecture Hall, 2nd floor, New Academic Building. All worship services connected with the conference will be held in the college chapel, with the exception of the Choral Eucharist which will take place at St. George's Church, 2222 Brunswick Street.

PLEASE NOTE: The 2017 Atlantic Theological Conference is being held in conjunction with (and immediately following) an academic conference at Dalhousie University, with the title "Wisdom belongs to God". This event will take place from the evening of Sunday, June 18th to the afternoon of Wednesday, June 21st 2017. Those attending the Atlantic Theological Conference (June 21-24) are invited to come a few days early in order also to attend the conference at Dalhousie.
