The Third Sunday After Easter

May 8, 2022

GOING FORWARD

Dear Friends in Christ:

While it is now possible to worship and to gather for meetings and coffee et cetera without capacity limits or masks in the Cathedral, please continue to sanitize your hands, to wear a mask or continue social distancing at your discretion. Please consider wearing a mask when moving in the aisle.

The Offering Plate will continue to be available by the door of the Cathedral.

For now, the Sacrament will continue to be delivered in one kind at the head of the nave, but it is my intention to restore the common cup at the Eucharist in the Cathedral and All Souls' Chapel. I can assure you that to the best of my knowledge, there is no evidence of the transfer of any disease through the use of the common cup since it was introduced at the time of the Reformation of 1549. Each Sunday since I was ordained in 1983, I have, Sunday by Sunday and day by day, consumed any wine left over, after everyone present consumed the wine from the common cup, as have the clergy throughout the Anglican Communion, these many years, with no evidence of resulting illness. Of course, you may continue to receive in only one kind. The cup will be offered. You are not obliged to consume the consecrated wine.

May 9 - Gregory of Nazianzus also known as Gregory the Theologian or Gregory Nazianzen, was a 4th century Archbishop of Constantinople and theologian. He is widely considered the most accomplished rhetorical stylist of the patristic age. Gregory, was born in 329 AD, and died in January, 390 AD.

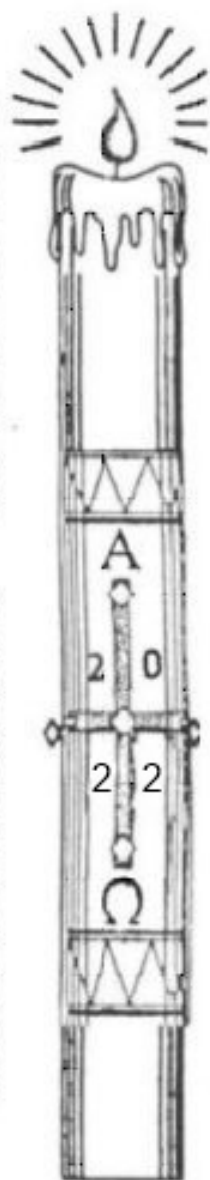

May 11 - Cyril (826-869) and Methodius (815-885) were two brothers and Byzantine Christian Theologians and Missionaries.

May 12 - Florence Nightingale, known as "The Lady of the Lamp", was a British nurse, a social reformer, statistician and best known as the founder of modern nursing. She came to prominence while serving as manager and trainer of nurses during the Crimean War in which she organized care for wounded soldiers in Constantinople. Florence Nightingale was born 12 May 1820 and died 13 August 1910 (aged 90).

The Light of Christ

For the forty days of the Easter Season, the Paschal Candle will burn at the Gospel side (left side) of the Altar. Its bright, persistent flame is a radiant reminder that light is breaking into our lives. Although there is darkness all around us, and even though our pain is real and our frustrations sharp, in spite of loss and even in the midst of death, light is breaking in.

This is the meaning of Easter: that God's love for us breaks into our dark lives to forgive and heal, to restore and bless, to renew and cherish. By this generous loving we are freed from the dark limitations of all that is mean and selfish, petty and diminishing. Through this generous loving we are set free once again to step out of the darkness of sin and take our proper place as part of God's creation.

To believe in Easter is to believe that light is breaking in. Easter faith finds the Spring of God's possibilities for and with us bursting in our lives like the blossoms on a bough. Where yesterday there was only the dry memory of a long, dark winter, today there is, radiant and lovely, the witness of new life.

Christ's victory over the grave and sin and death breaks upon a lighted path through the darkness. With the Light of Christ before, behind, within, and around us, we can walk boldly in the midst of life, for the Light of life is with us, "and in that Light of life we'll walk, 'til pilgrim days are done."
