Harvest House Outreach

Once a month St. Peter's provides a hot meal for the Charlottetown street mission called Harvest House. We have a kind volunteer who makes the main course and has been doing so for over a year. Her name is Bonnie and we thank her so much for this. What we could use is some help with the dessert.

What is needed - The last Thursday of the month we take them dinner and dessert for 30. If you, or someone you know, would be free to bake for this on a month that suits you that would be great. This doesn't have to be fancy. Store-bought is fine too. We can give you the full details if you are interested. Just speak with Beth Dowbiggin, the Rector, myself or call the office.

(As well, if you would like to make a financial donation, that would help with the costs for Bonnie's meal.)

Thanks to all for your generosity!

Tours: The Cruise season is underway and the first organized tours to visit the Cathedral and Chapel will begin soon. Once again, we are asked to have a host talk about the historical aspects of the property. Tours are on site for about an hour, and we have a general script for hosts to follow. If you are interested in serving as a host, please contact Moe Rodgerson mrodegerson@bellaliant.net. The tour season runs until November and the fall is the busiest period.

"Such lovely balance, roundness of tone, evocative majesty and light that you all bring to your music making."

Potluck Magic: On Friday, May 2 we held a lovely potluck supper in the hall. As is the usual way at potlucks, by some magic the food is always just right. Thanks to all who came and had a good time. The plan is to host another one in the fall. See you there!

from The Crown of the Year by Austin Farrer, weekly paragraphs on the Holy Sacrament. When the disciples asked Christ to explain his departure and return, he did not explain the nature of these mysterious events, but he stated the principle or purpose of them. No birth, he says, without the pains of travail, but the birth of the child is well worth the pains. Unless we agonise at some time over the birth of faith, faith is not ours, it is not a personal possession, it is not the child of our own soul. Christ leaves his disciples so far and so long as is required for the pains of their travail. It is not an act of desertion on his part, but a merciful providence. Darkness and uncertainty, loneliness and spiritual effort are necessary to us, and, taken right, they are the growth of faith. They are as much the gifts of God as certainty and comfort. A little while, he says, and I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice; your joy no man taketh from you.
